

Optimize Your Spaces, Empower Your People

Create efficient workspaces, manage resources effectively, and optimize your employee experience for a thriving workplace.

With Nuvolo, you can plan, manage, and track your spaces while providing a positive experience for your employees. With a single source of truth, maximize the potential of your current spaces and plan for future scenarios.

Maximize Your Spaces and Plan for the Future

Cut Down on Administrative Backlog: Empower employees with self-service tools for booking desks, managing visitors, and requesting services.

Save Costs: Use data to reduce real estate, facilities, and energy costs by leveraging your spaces in a strategic way.

Improve Space Planning: Leverage space performance data, employee behavior analyses, and workplace trends to proactively shape optimal space planning.

Elevate Workplace Experience: Create an engaging and productive workplace by empowering employees to book space to support their work, find their colleagues, and access amenities and services.

Future-Proof Your Workplace: Manage your spaces to meet the short- and long-term needs of employees and your business based on actual space usage patterns.

After we deployed Nuvolo, we have 100% of our floorplans available online, and our employees can interact with them... including searching for people, places, and assets. Previously, the employee experience would include downloading PDFs and manually searching through them to determine available space of where someone was sitting.”
